He was an avid golfer, reader, and entertainer. Gary enjoyed travel, time with his children, and grandchildren. Gary was a humble man, with impeccable principles, who positively impacted the lives of everyone who was lucky enough to know him. Gary loved to meet people. One of his greatest joys was striking up a conversation and making a new friend. He enjoyed robust conversations centered around politics and religion.

Gary is predeceased by his parents, Kenneth and Annetta Dewel, and first wife Margaret.
